STATIONS FOR PERSONS MISSED IN ROLL CALL

Several Will Be Established, to Be Designated by Red Cross Flag.

COMMITTEES STILL WORK

Considerable Addition to Fund Expected From Italian People; Some Church Contributions Not Counted; Hooper Sees Last Year Felt似

By the time all the belated reports have been received and audited and errors who were not at their homes in Sunday afternoon have taken advantage of the opportunity given to find which will be provided by establishing enrolling stations in various sections of the city, Chairman Thomas Hooper feels assured there will be no doubt about the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call exceeding in amount collected and number of members enrolled to record of last year.

A committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Gaciano Corrado Mrs. A. Basilio and Miss Anna Gundolf is completing the roll call among the Italian residents. From results thus far obtained it is expected at least $100 will be added to the fund from this source.

The United Brethren and Evangelical churches have made collections which have not yet been audited hence not included in the official report. A number of individual subscriptions being received by members of the teams from persons not on Sunday which will help to swell the total.

To accommodate those persons who joined the roll call on Sunday Chairman Hooper suggested today that actions marked by a Red Cross flag could be established at convenient points for the accommodation of persons who realize that the work of the campaign will not be complete unless they have revised their membership or signed up for the first time.

WORKERS FOR ROLL CALL

BUSY ALL OVER COUNTY

People interest has rather centered on Cornellsville and Uniontown since the start of the Red Cross Roll Call.

At the present time special outlets for the Roll Call took in these cities on the initial days, other sections of the county by no means have abated to shoulder their portion of responsibility for the success of the Roll Call. While Cornellsville was still past the $2,000 mark and Uniontown approaching it, workers in 28 other districts were working just as hard to cover their territories and when the final reports are in it is expected that the total membership on the sparsely settled sections of the county will reach a truly surprising figure.

Soliciting members in the townships here houses are located some distance from each other, resolves to a harder task than in the cities and boroughs and headquarters, therefore give much closer to the townships for the moral and enthusiasm shown in the present Roll Call. Few reports have been received from the various townships, if these reported indicate that the work is being made in a thorough manner and that district organizations are keeping a close check on the work to make certain that an opportunity is given every family to become an active member.

An instance of the thoroughness in which the work is being forwarded in the townships is given in South Union where Reuben Howard, the strict chairman, filled in for one his collectors who was suddenly taken sick. Mr. Howard had set aside certain portion of the township to canvass Monday and when he learned that the collector to whom he assigned the territory was taken sick he got out and did the soliciting himself.

A complete canvass will be made of oil and coke company employees for Red Cross memberships. This phase of the Roll Call is being given hearty operation of superintendents and company officials and from that alone alone a mighty volume of membership is expected to be closed up.

INNOCENT LOOKING YOUNG GIRL RELIEVES COBBLER OF HIS ROLL CONTAINING $300

HEAVY DAMAGE TO COAL PLANT CAUSED BY FIRE IN SHAFT

Loss to Union (Connellsville Company) at Simpson Mat Freedent Hill Million Dollars.

Damage estimated at half million dollars was caused by fire Monday at the Anthracite plant of the Union Coal Company at Simpson station near Connellsville on the Monongahela railroad.

Natural causes resulting in a volcanic eruption of small proportion, was responsible for the fire according to officials of the federal Bureau of Mines and the Department of Mines of the state.

These representatives visited the mine yesterday morning and made a thorough inspection. The mine was to be entered today by way of the shaft. The actual loss will not be definitely learned until after the mine has been inspected.

I doubt very much if the loss will exceed the million mark. William Allison, member of the firm stated last night. We have no idea as to what the loss will be but it will hardly go beyond the half million mark.

When the blaze broke out it was discovered by one of the bottom shafts miners. He immediately sounded the alarm and the rescue crew was shortly on the job.

Two shafts of the mine have been practically destroyed according to representatives of the company. The fire was practically checked last night due to the efforts of the miners.

Frank Puffin a shoemaker whose shop is located in East Crawford avenue was the victim of a quick thief who got away with $300 yesterday afternoon. The young woman who appeared to be the cobbler to him about 16 years old, entered his shop and asked him if he could patch her shoes saying he would not expect his condition at all times having been critical. He did not regain consciousness. He had enjoyed good health until his illness and his untimely death is keenly felt by his wide circle of friends.

Mr. West was born in Connellsville December 6, 1842 and spent all his life here. He attended the public schools and at an early age learned the trade of a bricklayer. He followed this occupation for a number of years and later went to erect many of the older buildings here including the Newcomer building on North Pittsburg street and the old Immaculate Conception church which was destroyed by fire.

For a number of years Mr. West was engaged in the furniture and upholstery business becoming a member of the firm of Morris & Company in 1892 the establishment being located at North Pittsburg and West Penn streets. In June 1911 Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell purchased the business and since then Mr. West had lived mostly a retired life.

In politics Mr. West was a staunch Democrat. He was greatly interested in the welfare and growth of Connellsville. He was elected a member of the city council in 1915 and served two years as superintendent of accounts and finance. He was also a member of the school board at one time. For many years he was a member of the First Presbyterian church the W. A. Little Bible class and of the William McKinley Lodge, independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Mr. West was known as an expert fisherman and had a fondness also for angling for bass. Not long ago he had a hand in getting a number of excursions to trout streams and he always brought back the evidence that he knew the art of getting the fish. In addition the past few years caused him to abandon the excursions. He was also especially fond of hunting having been out on an expedition a week ago last Friday.

Mrs. ELLA LEFTWICK, another Kansas City woman whose remarkable restoration by Tanaka has astonished her neighbors, many of whom have begun taking the Master Medicine. "They all agree with me that it is the grandest medicine on earth," says Mrs. Leftwick.

"A number of my friends, after seeing the wonderful good Tanaka did me, began taking this medicine, and now they all agree with me that it is the grandest medicine on earth," said Mrs. Ella Leftwick, 722 Pine street, Kansas City, Kans.

Tanaka completely restored my health," she said, "and just seemed to give me a new lease on life. If I could talk personally with every woman suffering as I did, I would urge them to take this medicine."

"For the first time in three years I am able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals every day and not suffer in the least with indigestion afterwards. I am never troubled now with the awful smothering spells that used to frighten me so much, and the dreadful headaches that came upon me every day have been entirely broken up."

"I was extremely nervous and couldn't sleep well, but now my nerves are in splendid shape, and I sleep like a child every night. My strength has been so wonderfully increased that I can now do all the housework in my eight-room house and attend to the children besides. I feel just splendidly all the time now. Tanaka is certainly worth its weight in gold."

ly being stronger than at the opening of the fight but not sufficiently so to shade his opponent.

The scrap won the hearty approval of every fan in the house. It was not the kind in which slugging predominates, but was a clausy exhibition of the art of boxing. Both scrapers were clever, Ryan seeming to have some advantage in footwork. Several times when Wimler was rushed his head would slip through the upper rope, but his opponent never followed those advantages, allowing the Fair Haven lad to step back into the ring. Wimler returned the courtesy when Ryan slipped under his own corner during a late round.

That fight was more than had been expected was the opinion of the house. Wimler was the favorite, having lived here at one time. He showed much improvement over his scrapping then, having performed here a few years ago. Ryan weighed in at 119½ pounds and Wimler at 123.

In the semi-final Eddie Carver of Pittsburgh easily shaded Billy Carter of this city. The bout was scheduled for eight rounds but the local-colored lad could not get his opponent at any time. The fight was snappy at the opening but slowed down near the close.

Johnny Pollock, a Dawson boy, and Young Plaza of Pittsburgh staged a fast, hard-hitting curtain raiser. The scrap was considered a draw. Pollock took lots of punishment but he met out a full share to Plaza. The fans like Pollock. He has been in only a few scraps but he has been showing good form and is considered a comer. The next show will be held in two weeks.

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY HIGH
HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Highly elated over the victory won at Wilkinsburg last Saturday, the Duquesne high school football team got down to hard work again this evening. Duquesne University high school is to be the next victim if the Coker boys have anything to say about the matter. Last week Coach Rupp said he felt like three straight wins, meaning Wilkinsburg, Duquesne and Washington. His squad chalked up the first one against the Holy City aggregation.

The form shown by the Cokers Saturday reflects on the regular attendance at practice of the entire squad.

Failure to report every night always works havoc with the efforts of any coach to get a team in shape and also affects the morale of the remaining players of the team, especially when it is the league.

Big men on the varsity who insist on the record of the local school by defacing this aggregation.

Connellsville has at least had a successful season away from home. One game has been won, one tied and one lost.

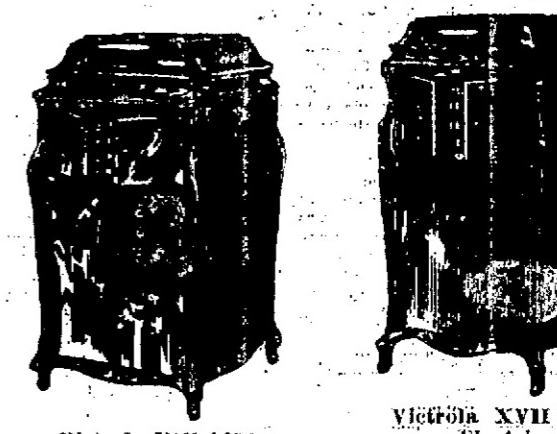

Washington High School has been beaten by the Cokers twice.

Connellsville is hoping to help Advertise for it in our Class Column.

WORLD TURNS TO THE UNITED STATES FOR FOREST PRODUCTS

A BIG DROP IN CAR SHORTAGE INCREASE NUMBER CARS LOADED

Cars Loaded 23,914 of Requirements, Compared With 86,141 Preceding Week.

Exports Will Average $200,000,000 This Year; Imports of Different Character, Almost Equal.

The World Is Again Turning to the United States for Its Supplies of Forest Products, and Our Exports of Timber, Lumber and Other Forest Products Will Average About $200,000,000 in the Calendar Year 1920, Comprising an Average of $70,000,000 per annum, During the First Six Months of the Year.

Our Exports of Forest Products, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, have aggregated more than $1 billion dollars in the last decade despite the partial interruption by the war and are now running at the rate of $200,000,000 a year, or nearly four times as much as the stated value in terms of the war years when the natural reduction in world demand was intensified by the lack of transportation facilities. In the pre-war years, our exports of lumber and other forest products aggregated about $75,000,000 per annum, and were steadily advancing so that in the year immediately preceding the war the total value of all forest products exported was $115,000,000. But, with the opening of the war, the demand temporarily declined, especially from Europe, and the total value of the exports of this class dropped in 1918 and 1919 to just one-half that of the year preceding the war.

Now, however, with the resumption of building in all parts of the world and the Russian supplies temporarily cut off, the world again turns to the United States and her neighbor, Canada, and our exports of lumber and other forest products, which advanced to $120,000,000 in 1918, and probably to about $120,000,000 in the calendar year 1920.

Curiously, adds the bank's statement, our importation of forest products is nearly as large in value as our exports, but in large degree of a different character. We have imported in the eight months ending with August, for which details are not available, $120,000,000 worth of wood pulp alone, chiefly from the tropics and in addition, up to this, about $80,000,000 worth of lumber coming chiefly from the Canadian forests whose proximity to our people along the northern border justifies them in buying outside the United States, especially as our own supply is being rapidly depleted by the renewed demands from abroad, even at the higher prices which are now approximately 50 per cent greater than those of a year ago.

Nation-wide Demonstration Sale of Pathé Phonographs and Pathé Records

BEGINNING Saturday morning, a sale of phonographs and phonograph records will be opened in this store, the character and magnitude of which is more far-reaching than has ever before been attempted in the history of music.

This is a sale which will be ultimately carried out in approximately five hundred cities and towns of the United States.

It is a move on the part of the Pathé Frères Phonograph Company of New York City, manufacturers, and the retail dealers in Pathé Phonographs and Records to bring the excellence of these instruments and records, directly, forcefully, and immediately to the close and intimate attention of music loving persons, under a plan which offers exceptional advantages to the purchaser.

The following gives the essential facts concerning this intensely interesting plan:

$25 worth of Genuine Pathé RECORDS FREE

This most unusual sale is a campaign to more directly demonstrate and thoroughly introduce Pathé Phonographs and Pathé Records to the people of this vicinity.

There have been 15 genuine Pathé Phonographs, and their complement of Pathé Records, allotted to us for this purpose. This entire allotment is right now in our store and will be sold upon the special terms and conditions mentioned elsewhere in this advertisement and there will be no delay in delivery to you.

While this announcement is most unusual, in itself, yet this alone does not give the full significance of what this sale really means.

This special sale of 15 Pathé Phonographs in this vicinity is less than one five-hundredth part of a gigantic co-operative campaign which has been planned to take the Pathé direct to the homes of the people in more than five hundred cities and towns of the United States.

It is the purpose of the manufacturers, through this attractive sale and plan to get twenty thousand more American homes right at this time to know and use and praise and boost Pathé Phonographs and Pathé Records.

Every one of the vast number of instruments required, running well into millions of dollars; every statement made, and every condition of sale accorded the purchaser will be identical. The 15 persons in this town who are so fortunate as to obtain the phonographs we have been allotted, will be given the same price to a penny, and the same conditions and guarantees as the persons in New York City, San Francisco and every other large city where this campaign may be carried on.

This sale is to create a closer acquaintance with and to further popularize the Pathé Phonograph and Pathé Records. And nothing will be permitted, in presenting their claims for your approval, that will in the slightest degree reflect upon their standing or tend to break down the great and enviable name they bear.

Origin of the Pathé and What Is Back of It

The Pathé Frères (Pathé Brothers) Phonograph Co. is one of the great, successful and enterprising houses manufacturing phonographs and phonograph records, of the world.

It is an American Company, with its principal factory located at New York City, and is a part of the world-famous European firm of Pathé Frères, which is this year celebrating its twenty-fifth year in the phonograph industry.

Pathé Frères (Pathé Brothers) are French scientists and inventors and are, today, probably the most distinguished authorities on matters pertaining to tone reproduction. They are the inventors of innumerable inventions in the fields of radio wireless telegraphy, the motion picture industry and the phonograph.

The Pathé Rooster shown herewith, which is the Pathé trade mark, is one of the most widely known trade marks known to man. In the United States alone, it is estimated that ten million persons see it weekly on screens of international events shown in the Pathé News at motion picture houses.

And it is this same Rooster, this same great symbol of business honor and enterprise, that we wish, through the medium of this unusual demonstration sale, to more thoroughly introduce to the people of this community.

Not Working but Tired Out.
When one feels always tired without working, or suffers from backache, lumber, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints, it is not always easy to locate the source of trouble, but very frequently it can be traced to over-worked, weakened, fatigued kidneys. Tomorrow and Thursday Tom Moore will be seen in "Stop Thief."

THE PARADAY.

"MILESTONES"—Goldwyn's photographic adaptation from the famous play, far below presented today. To demonstrate that history repeats itself, the authors depict romance and progress, combating tradition itself.

The three periods, 1860, 1886 and 1916, marked the coming of important ships, derived by old Richard Sibley, builder of wooden ships. He refuses his daughter Rose to her ambitions, the young sailor, John Reed, because the younger man stands out for the new model of craftsmanship, John's sister, Gertrude, resents this injustice so bitterly that she breaks off her engagement to Richard Sibley's son Sam.

Twenty-five years later, in an environment almost unchanged, John Reed has grown rich and conservative. His sister, Gertrude, still single and a spinster, wants to help her love triumph by aiding her niece Emily to wed her heart's selection.

In the year 1916, a quarter of a century later, John, who eloped when young, is still an uncompromising old fool, but is still outwitted by Muriel, the bright young daughter of Emily.

To You Who Are Considering the Purchase of a New Range--

We Offer a Few Suggestions:

First of all BUY A REAL Range. Don't economize too closely on the purchase price. Economy is not merely spending the least money. A Range is something you do not buy very often and it is indeed false economy to buy one at a low price.

A GREAT MANY OF THE PEOPLE listed below will tell you they have had their MAJESTIC 8, 10 and 12 years without one cent of repairing. This together with the economy of FUEL, durability and satisfactory service justifies our claim that we have the BEST RANGE ON EARTH.

This Majestic is made in many different styles, cabinet style, on legs, with or without reservoir and are also made in the COMBINATION GAS AND COAL RANGE. This range has a separate gas baker which is entirely independent from the coal baker, and is the ONLY ABSOLUTELY SATISFACTORY WAY FOR A COMBINATION RANGE. It has been proven times without number that one baker cannot be built so that it will bake perfectly with gas or coal. A gas baker MUST HAVE AIR and a coal baker MUST BE TIGHT. Therefore we advise that whatever kind you buy do not be fooled on this POINT.

STOP!

THINK!

FIGURE!

Your wife cooks a thousand meals a year. Your range is used more than all your other furniture combined. They why not buy the best! The Majestic. THE GREAT MAJESTIC, THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION WON, GOLD MEDALS—The highest award at the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, St. Louis, Portland, Seattle, Jamestown, Knoxville, and Omaha.

For nearly a quarter of a century, ever since MAJESTIC RANGES have been on the market, it has swept from all competitors the highest prizes offered at WORLD'S FAIRS, and similar Expositions. There has not been a single break or exception. This betokens an article of extraordinary and unquestionable merit. It is admitted to mean much when such a prize is won; even once, but when the winning is repeated year after year, and when the Judges are chosen from the most prominent men in their lines, from the four quarters of the globe, we are justified in our contention that we make the best on EARTH.

Here are some MAJESTIC users in and about Connellsville: Ask them about the GREAT MAJESTICS.

427 STRIKES IN STATE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF YEAR

Loss in Wages to Workers Estimated at Harrisburg to be Above the Five-Million Mark.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Pennsylvania workmen were involved in 427 strikes during the first nine months of this year, according to figures announced here today by Dr. Clifford R. Cressler, commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry. The estimated loss in wages to the strikers is $5,469,417.

There were more than 48,000 men and women out of work because of the industrial disputes, and they lost 1,000 days between January 1 and October 1.

The largest number of jobs from strike occurred in the textile industry, with more than $1,000,000 in wages lost, followed by the 7,000 strikers in that industry alone. Metal workers were engaged in 73 strikes, and building tradesmen played a part in 36 disputes. Nine different classes of industry are represented in the list.

Philadelphia had 100 disturbances, the largest of any county in the state. Lehigh County had 27; Delaware 24; Northampton 24; Allegheny 16.

OCTOBER RECORD MONTH IN FREIGHT ON PENNSYLVANIA

Nearly 24,000 Loaded Cars a Day Are Transported to Destinations; Equals 6,000,000 Tons a Week.

The highest recorded volume of freight traffic ever transported in the history of the Pennsylvania railroad system was handled during the month of October. Reports from all divisions which have just reached the general office in Philadelphia show that during the month an average of nearly 24,000 loaded cars per day, or 187,881 per week, were forwarded to their respective destinations. This represents more than 70,000 tons of freight a day, or over 5,000,000 tons a week, loaded on the Pennsylvania railroad, or accepted by it from connecting lines.

The nearest approach to the figures for October of this year were those of the corresponding month of 1919, when the daily average of loaded cars handled was 23,700. As compared with summer, the freight traffic handled during October was up approximately 10 percent. The figures for October of last year were those of the corresponding month of 1919, when the daily average of loaded cars handled was 23,700. INDIGESTION

Papé's Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the time usually spent for cough syrup by making Papé's Indigestion Syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for rapid results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives instant relief. It is easily digested, keeps perfectly, and lasts a long time.

It is truly astonishing how quickly it penetrates through every artery of the throat and lungs—leaving nothing but a clear, strong, healthy, and invigorating throat—tickle and cough.

Take a tablet or two of Papé's Dispepsin and instantly your stomach feels fine. All the indigestion pains, acidity and misery in the stomach caused by acidity ends.

Papé's Dispepsin tablets cost little at any drug store but there is no surer or quicker stomach antacid known.

About One of Connellsville's Most Religious Institutions.

It was established in 1875—forty-four years ago. It began in a small way, but today residents of Connellsville are welcome to it with more than Two Million and a Half of Dollars, and its total assets are over $3,000,000.00. It's to be true that a bank grows not as it serves, the service of the First National of Connellsville, from whose latest statement the above figures were taken, must be exceedingly satisfactory.—Adv.

The Dark Mirror

BY
LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

(Copyright 1920 by the Author)

Alike to work and to play she gave herself without reserve, entering with unsworn enthusiasm (though nobody thought it fervent) into whatever diversion the hour offered. And if at times there was an undernote of sadness in her laughter, shadowed wistfulness in her eyes, weariness in her gesture, she was the first to notice and swift to dismiss. So that none remarked any change in her, more than an excess of levity and gaiety at once elusive and instant; and she was more than ever sought after, importuned, courted, wooed. A dozen conquests were added to her score in that too brief lull. But she seemed altogether unaware of them, save as friends, and more sedately among them, adorably pretty, tantalizingly desirable, exasperatingly delectable. In those days she liked all men and loved none . . . none but me.

John Philip Fosdick, with himself, who was honest and unscrupulous. If Merton was never for her, she was for no one else. She was patient in confidence of ultimate emancipation. Already she had faltered much. The question of her safety no longer harassed her. More, she had ceased to dream of Leonora. Nor rather, she no longer remembered what she dreamed. She awoke every morning from a night whose dream content was blank—if she had dreamed at all. She was far from satisfied, however, that she had ceased to dream. It seemed to her that she had ceased merely to remember. For in spite of the cessation of her dreaming the sense of the Wilson persisted; never had she felt more near to Leonora, more intimately a sharer in her payable life.

Now, and again there would come without warning, without any encouragement of conscious wish or thought, a feeling of identity with that other, or understanding of personal participation in Leonora's happiness, that brought a strange exaltation of spirit, paradoxically akin to that happiness which life refused her. And at such times she would experience indefinite, tending glimpses into Leonora's present circumstances—glimpses, no sooner generated than snatched away, of a life half known, half foreign, like a stir of shadow shaped to the depths of the dark mirror of her unconscious mind.

V. THE PORTRAIT AGAIN. That week saw intimated spring, abandoning every show of diffidence, hastening with footsteps daily more hasty to drag herself into the arms of summer.

Mrs. Trowbridge had arranged to take over the Southampton cottage of a friend who was going abroad. Priscilla, preoccupied with personal interests, her unhappiness, and the work that seemed its only antidote, was careless whether they went for the summer, or when, or how, so long as the charges were not permitted to hinder her painting, and asked only to be let alone till she finished her two latest canvases.

Twice she begged for postponements, which were grudgingly conceded, and ultimately, badgered beyond endurance by her aunt's insistence that she name a definite day when she would be willing to go, flatly declared she wouldn't budge a foot out of town before she had at least completed the portrait of Adna Moyer.

Mrs. Trowbridge heard the accent of flattery, but said in a discretion—but with pursed lips.

Fosdick, observing, Priscilla to a threefold capacity, conceded the conquest of his admiration as a sportsman; the girl was putting up the gameliest fight conceivable, again crushing him.

The physician in him now with satisfaction, the seemingly successful working out of his prescribed regime, even the relative which by his order, Priscilla took every night on going to bed, was doing its work without any apparent ill effect; to the contrary, indeed, since her dreams no longer distressed the girl. Still, it would be over-sanguine to consider the case already closed with a cure.

And the lover remained in suspense, hoping against hope with an uneasy heart.

Andrews turned up no trace of Leonora after her departure from the Walpole Inn company with Mario. If those two had married, they had managed the business with the utmost circumspection and secrecy.

He reported no progress in his search for traces of "Mother O'More"—assuming that such a person had ever existed.

There came at length a day of relaxing heat, when everything went wrong.

Adna Moyer showed up in the morning only to announce that, much as he adored her portrait, she hadn't the slightest intention of going to

The Connellsville Drug Co. and the Broadway Drug Co., Scottdale, sell a preparation called Sim-co Salve that will afford more relief than any night-fool poultice for the lungs, etc., than all the old fashioned "internal" nostrums and syrups you have ever tried. It is an active antiseptic salve that reaches both the outside and the inside of the lungs, that is why it is so unusually effective. It is the new antiseptic salve to kill the germ and at the same time is soothing, healing and refreshing to the fevered child or adult. The same salve that is penetrating from without by application to the chest and throat, is reaching the inside by inhalation at the same time and without the use of patent inhalers or expense other than the trifles paid for the salve, only 30c, and besides the Connellsville Drug Co. and the Broadway Drug Co. sell it on the "money back if it fails" plan.

Simco Salve does what home ability can never do; there are other remedies, but what remedy, for those ailments, can compare with Sim-co Salve which reaches the inside of the lungs. The Connellsville Drug Co. and the Broadway Drug Co. are authorized to return your money if it doesn't

With theittings or, for that matter of stopping on in town another day in such weather. If Priscilla wanted to finish the portrait she would have to bring it down to the Moyers' country home and work on it there. This being manifestly unreasonable, Ada knew quite well it would be impossible to duplicate the lighting of the studio—Priscilla felt constrained to point out candidly how foolish Ada was. And they bickered until they parted, each huffed to the verge of tears.

Priscilla consoled herself, she had shopping to do . . .

The shops were crowded, the salespeople irritable and irritating. She found nothing that suited her. Between three and four she gave up trying and, thoroughly out of humor, started to walk home up the avenue.

In front of the Barkness gallery a little knot of people had collected, creating an eddy in the tides of foot traffic. Priscilla hesitated, with quickening pulses, added herself to the group before the show window, working her way into its heart, where she obtained an unobstructed view of her work.

For it was true, what she had surmised: Barkness had already sprung the portrait of Leonora on exhibition. And already it was attracting a considerable amount of attention. Enchanted, Priscilla stood, before her painting, with eyes that shone, and cheeks aglow, an exquisite emulsion, still glistening in her bosom.

Near by a man spoke in the language of the siford, praising the portrait as a companion. And Priscilla heard and was exultant.

When she dared trust herself to do so, she looked around cautiously, seeking to identify that kindly critic whose appreciation was so much the more acceptable because he spoke with the tongue of understanding.

A small chuckle was struggling in her throat. She could not help wondering what the man would think could he know how dangerously near he was to being publicly kissed by a strange woman.

But the chuckle expired in a strangled gasp. The dancing eyes steadied to a fixed stare. The color in her cheeks ebbed more swiftly than it had come.

She began to wonder if her heart would ever beat again. If she would ever find enough to move from that spot where terror had transfixed her.

Her searing glance had been arrested almost as soon as detached from the portrait by theardon and insolent regard of one who stood at a slight distance, though in the same group: a man whose face she had never seen yet knew: the man whom she knew only by the style under which he passed among his criminal kind—"Barry the Nut."

And he knew her, as his meagre answer witnessed.

Nor was this the worst; beyond his shoulder a second face showed, colorless and drawn with passionate malice; the face of the woman Inez.

CHAPTER SEVEN

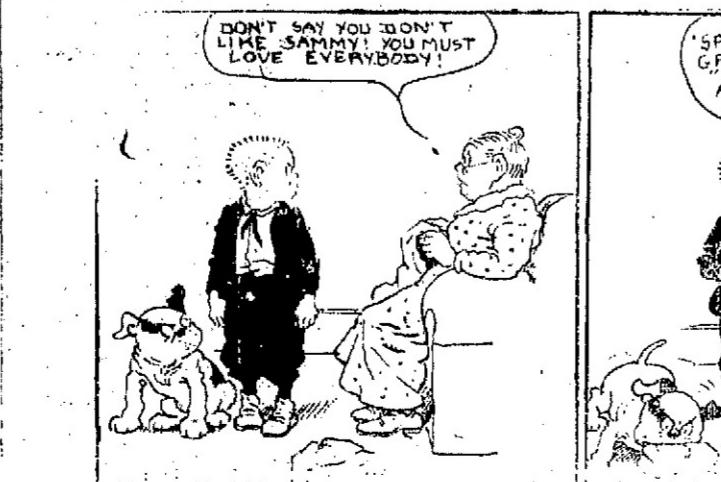

Rendezvous With Death.

I. FOREBODINGS.

Only with the four walls of her own room shutting out the world was Priscilla able to take up the task of reuniting equanimity out of a chaos of shattered nerves and scattered wits.

By sheer force of will she made herself reconstruct and review that adventure which had loosed panic upon her in the crowded street and driven her, a hunted thing, to seek refuge in flight from the hostility of those
